Protector of the Light

The Unicorn of Novala

It was an age of dragons. Of wizards; of winged horses and heroes. And all revered the magic of the crystal, which flashed mysterious light and colours from its very depths.

Leave ordinary cares behind and meet some of the characters that inhabit this realm of mystery.

- The Wise Wizard of the Light consults his book of ancient runes. He knows the true power of the crystal, which grants its protection to the good at heart.
- The Dragon of Lumen, schooled by the Wizard since it emerged from its egg, guards the crystal against those who would use it for evil.
- The Unicorn of Novala rejoices in its freedom – kept safe by the crystal from the hunters of its magical horn.

Giotto — a close encounter of the second kind

Star-gazers won't want to miss the sight of Comet Grigg-Skjellerup making its five-yearly appearance hurtling through space on July 10. The European Space Agency's satellite Giotto will be manoeuvred into the path of the travelling ball of fire to send pictures back to earth.

The Discovery Channel will be recording the encounter and will broadcast the event the same day at 4pm.

Astronomer Heather Couper will present the programme, explaining what is happening when the satellite endures a massive bombardment of dust — its sole protection being an aluminium plate and a bumper shield made of the same material used in bullet-proof vests.

Know the answers — win a telescope

You could be viewing Venus through an Astral Telescope AT with a 40 mm objective lens (magnification 15/30/45) if you correctly answer the questions right. Three runners-up will receive Discovery Channel T-shirts. Send your completed entry to Linda Crouch, Videotron, Videotron House, 11-29 Belmont House, Lewisham, SE13 5AU by July 31.

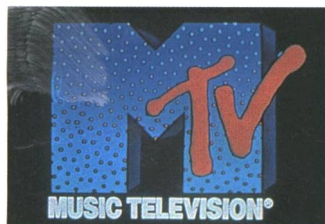

1. What was the name of the comet that Giotto first encountered in 1986?

2. What is the head of a comet called?

MTV's Most Wanted...

If it's hip or happening, cool or crazy then you're sure to find it on MTV's Most Wanted, the channel's brand new live talk show.

Fronted by MTV's most outspoken personality — VJ Ray Cokes — the show welcomes an array of top stars to perform or chat in the studio and also invites viewers to participate over the phone lines.

You'll also be able to enter a host of fab competitions with spectacular prizes such as travel and tickets to top gigs — Bruce Springsteen, Def Leopard, Freddie Mercury Tribute to name but a few.

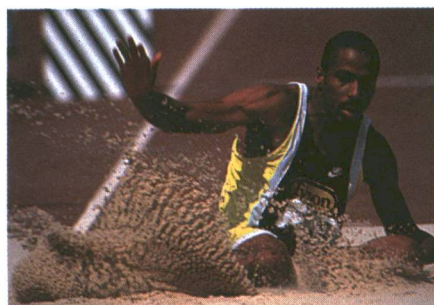

The MTV studio has become the place to be: Right Said Fred dropped in last month to prove that they were just 'too sexy' by performing a totally live acoustic set. Mr Big, Julian Lennon and kd Lang are also included on the growing list of Most Wanted guests to perform live on the show. MTV's Most Wanted — Tuesday to Friday 7.30- 9.00pm. Check it out.

The summer Olympics on Eurosport

The cream of the world's sports men and women will converge on Barcelona on July 24 and never will the desire for gold, silver and bronze be stronger. Over 170 countries are competing in the Games and you can catch all the sporting action on Eurosport who will be bringing you non-stop Olympics coverage 24-hours a day.

All the main disciplines — including athletics, swimming, tennis, badminton, basketball, equestrian, sailing, gymnastics, pentathlon, football, fencing, table tennis, cycling, handball, volleyball and wrestling — will be shown live between 8am and 11pm, with over 300 hours of live broadcasting. All other events will be transmitted on the same day.

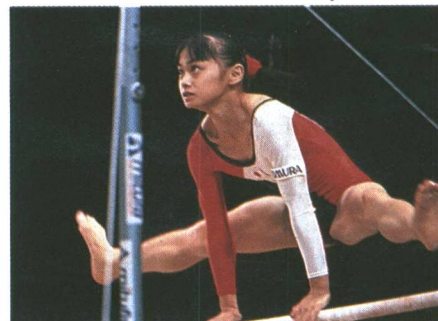

Special Olympic packs to be won

There are three special Olympic packs to be given away in our special Games competition. The packs include Olympic Games sports top, Eurosport polo shirts, brooch pins, posters and a special six-supplement History of the Olympics in a presentation binder. All you have to do is correctly match the Eurosport commentator to their specialist sport — and send your completed entry to Linda Crouch, Videotron, Videotron House, 11-29 Belmont Hill, Lewisham, SE13 5AU by July 31. The first three correct answers out of the hat will win.

Rugby in a league of its own

Great Britain's Rugby League team last toured New Zealand in 1990 winning the series by two Tests to one. Against New Zealand, Great Britain have a strong record with 47 wins out of the 77 games played, against New Zealand's 27.

It was during a tour of this country by New Zealand in 1990, that Great Britain started the run of confidence and fiery form that they still ride today, winning their first home series since 1965. Now, in 1992, with their largest ever touring squad of 30 and the toughest stage of the Australasian tour behind them, captain Ellery Hanley, Offiah, Schofield and crew should be at the peak of form.

You can catch the first Test from Pamerston North, exclusively live on Sky Sports on Sunday July 12 at 7pm, with the second Test from Auckland in the early hours of Saturday night/Sunday morning, at 3.00am on Sunday July 19.

Great Britain Test star Ellery Hanley.

READY WILLING AND CABLE

Premier League bonanza on Sky Sport!

EXECUTIVES AND producers at BSkyB have gone into an extended huddle to finalise details of their revolution in televised football in England.

The £304million joint deal that Murdoch's men and the BBC signed with the new 22-club Premier League promises more than exclusive live weekly league football for cable viewers.

The long silence about their plans from Sky Sports can be explained by their apparent desire to not only show more live soccer than ever before but to completely revamp the way the game is presented when the new season starts next month.

The new package caters for 60 live league matches for 1992-93, 30 on Sundays and a further 30 on Mondays.

The programme makers are experimenting to get away from the tired old formats of match presentation and the way that soccer issues and news are discussed.

The new look and extra coverage means that new faces are likely to be joining Sky's already extensive squad of football presenters. One BSkyB stalwart who will not be losing his place as main presenter is the familiar Richard Keys.

The exciting new face of televised league football, along with the expert commentators and new schedules, should be unveiled in full in next month's Cable Guide.

ITV was knocked off the ball with a lower bid of £200million. It had had a monopoly of soccer for the last four years at a modest total cost of £55million. ■

Heraldo Geraldo!

GERALDO IS THE latest chat-show to hit Sky One. But it's no ordinary talk slot.

Tense and suspenseful, the programme abandons the tired old chat-show couch and goes into the reporting field, taking viewers to the heart of fast-breaking stories as and when they happen.

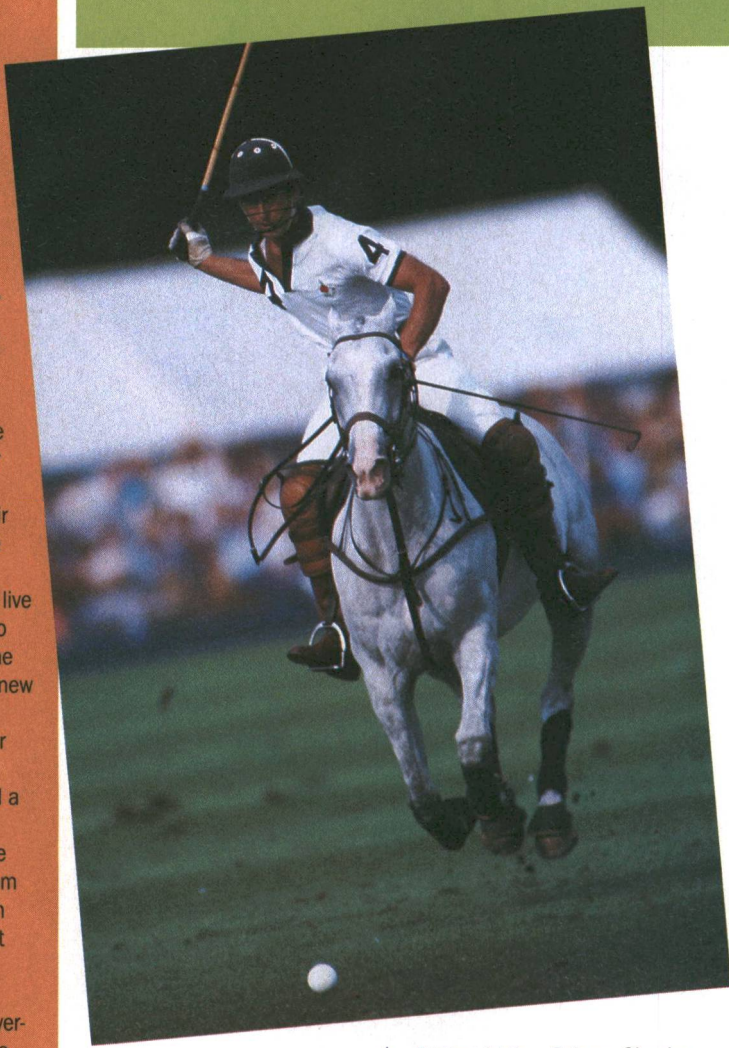

The host of the show, Geraldo Rivera, has been hailed as the king of tabloid TV, and has collected an astounding 250 awards for distinguished reporting over the past 20 years!

'My style and approach have always set me apart,' insists Geraldo, whose guests include Dee Presley, stepmother of Elvis, Peggy Iacocca, ex-wife of millionaire Lee, and Beverly Oliver, close friend of Jack Ruby.

WHAT KIND OF man is HRH Prince Charles? Is he a man of action or, as some would have it, a dreamer?

The future king might have to wait another 20 years before succeeding to the throne, so what should he be doing until the big day arrives?

The Discovery Channel's film Prince Charles – a Monarch in Waiting looks at the life and influences of the man whose controversial beliefs and marriage to Diana keep him constantly in the public eye. ■

High-rise horror!

An approaching hurricane causes a commotion among residents of a beautiful Florida residence in Condominium, showing on Sky One.

'Fun in the sun' is all a group of lovers dream about when they buy a complex of luxury apartments on the Gulf coast. But the happy owners are unaware of the fact that they are living in a death trap.

The builder of the apparently luxurious condos is a crook who assembled the complex using cheap, illegal materials. This is soon discovered by hydraulics engineer Sam Harris (Dan Grizzly Adams Haggerty) while on a visit to the complex.

But Sam's predictions that the building won't stand a chance in high winds become more worrying when forecasts show that a hurricane is expected to hit their stretch of coast in just a few hours. Barbara I Dream of Jeannie Eden (seen above with Dan Haggerty) and Steve The Baron Forrest also star. ■

What was Hollywood's hottest male property, Michael Douglas, getting up to before he displayed his Basic Instinct on screen for Sharon Stone in the erotic blockbuster of the same title?

Well, in his younger days he was a clean-nosed cop on the beat of The Streets of San Francisco. Filmed on location in America's beautiful west coast city, the slick detective series that made the son of Kirk a household name stars Mikey as rookie cop Steve Keller. He is the kind of clean-cut character who would never fall into bed with a suspected murderess as Douglas circa 1992 does with Stone. Middle-aged Mike is known to put on the pounds between films and had to work out strenuously to be able to disrobe for Basic Instinct. It's a far cry from his San Francisco TV series days (1972 to 1976) when his lean keen younger self was on display. Douglas's senior partner in the series is played by Karl Malden. ■

Close encounters

ON 10 JULY, the European Space Agency's satellite Giotto will be manoeuvred into the path of a comet to send pictures to Earth.

Giotto last encountered a comet in 1986. It was then put into hibernation in deep space for four years, orbiting the sun every 10 months. Scientists have now reactivated the satellite and set it on a course to pass through the tail of Comet Grigg-Skjellerup. The Discovery Channel will broadcast this extraordinary event on Friday 10th in Giotto - A Close Encounter of the Second Kind, in which astronomer Heather Couper will explain what is happening as Giotto endures a dust bombardment.

JOANIE GREGGAINS, California's favourite fitness guru is the star and executive producer of Morning Stretch, a 30-minute work-out shown on Sky Sports three times a day, starting at 6.30am.

More than a million bleary-eyed Americans have been tuning in to her show for more than 11 years in a bid to fight flab and cellulite.

But Joanie is far from the average obsessive body-beautiful American.

Fun is her watch-word, and throughout her exertions, she tells jokes, reads excerpts from just some of the 600 fan letters she receives each week, and chatters on about anything from shopping and washing up to her family and her pet dogs.

Joanie is joined by fellow exercisers clad in dressing gowns because, as Joanie says, 'that's how people are dressed at 6.30 in the morning'. Judging by the titles of her best selling exercise videos, soon to be released in this country, Joanie has a pretty wacky sense of humour. Bun Burners and Lean Legs all sold well in the States, but not quite as well as the platinum best-seller Firm Fannies! Not surprisingly there are plans to change this title when it arrives in the shops in Britain.

As well as breaking new barriers of fitness, Morning Stretch oozes pure Hollywood glamour, reflecting the fact that Joanie's past work-out partners have included top Hollywood names like Arnold Schwarzenegger, Jane Fonda and Cher. ■ 15 Genesis CDs must be won!

Now that Genesis's Summer tour is under way, the scramble for tickets is well and truly on. Unfortunately there are none to be had at Cable Guide, but there is a chance for you to win a copy of the band's latest CD We Can't Dance.

Simply answer the following questions:

- 1 What was Genesis's original name?
- 2 Who was Genesis's original vocalist?
- 3 Which Scottish band is to support Genesis at Knebworth?

The first 15 correct entries opened on July 20 will win a copy of Genesis's We Can't Dance CD from Virgin Records.

Genesis set to dance

After almost 25 years together, Genesis released their 17th album to rave reviews last November.

'The album is all about the combination of the three of us at this moment,' commented Mike Rutherford. 'The way we are, the way we feel, and what excites us musically.'

And hot on the heels of We Can't Dance, Phil Collins and the lads hit the road with a vengeance this summer to play a host of dates culminating in a virtuoso laserfest at Knebworth.

To mark the popularity of the new album and forthcoming tour, MTV is showing a special Genesis Weekend, starting with a brand new Genesis Rockumentary that traces the band's legendary career through interviews with band members, rare performance footage and videos.

Following the Rockumentary, Genesis - the Hits looks at the long series of hits scored over the years by the band, including such classic tracks as Abacab, Land of

Jeremy Irons and friend

Rich and tragic

When Claus von Bulow was accused of trying to do away with his wealthy wife, America looked on with grim fascination. Jeremy Irons won an Oscar for his portrayal of the enigmatic defendant with a chilling sense of humour

IN 1982 DANISH aristocrat Claus von Bulow was sentenced to 30 years in prison on two counts of assaulting his heiress wife, Sunny, with intent to murder.

Von Bulow's legal battle was a media event, a real-life soap-cum-court-room drama that illuminated both sides of the American dream: misery and drug dependency amid the glamour and glitz. Hollywood could smell a hit movie.

Allowed out on $1million bail pending appeal, von Bulow engaged brilliant Harvard law professor Alan M Dershovitz to conduct his second defence. Dershovitz was notorious for taking on impossible battles, his past clients having included Patti Hearst and John de Loreau,

In 1984 the state supreme court reversed von Bulow's convictions, and in June 1985 a second jury trial acquitted him on both counts.

Today Sunny von Bulow is in a 'persistent vegetative state' in a New York hospital, while Claus von Bulow lives in London near his daughter Cosima.

His legal disputes with his stepchildren, who accused him of causing their mother's death by injecting her with insulin, have been settled privately, on the condition that he will never give his version of what really happened.

So with everything tied up nice and neat, why did Dershovitz spoil everything by publishing a controversial book about the case, and then appearing in Oscar-nominee Barbet Schroeder's film adaptation of the affair?

'Claus wanted me to write the book to vindicate him in public opinion,' says Dershovitz.

'He loves it. But the children threatened to take me to court. They wanted their version to be the only one the public got to see.'

But von Bulow himself was reputed to be angry because the film doesn't make his innocence sufficiently clear, and stated publicly that 'I find it inhuman and brutal that the film has been made at all.'

Described by Variety as 'a classy piece of film-making', Reversal of Fortune won a Best Actor Oscar for Jeremy Irons, who delivers a masterful performance as von Bulow, the poised patrician with tasteless humour.

'What do you give a wife who has everything?' he jokes to his defence team. 'An injection of insulin.' Glenn Close is sympathetic as the spoilt and tragically drug-addicted Sunny.

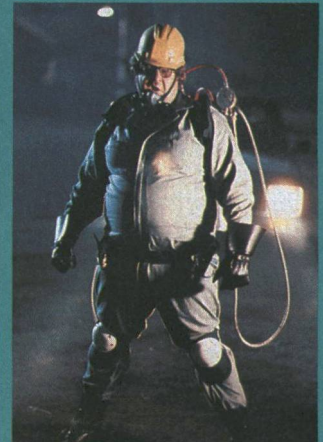

Wiry, pugnacious and aggressive, Ron Silver gives a deliciously unsavoury portrayal of Dershovitz, smashing telephones, slurping his food and scoring a minus value in human emotion.

'I don't think it's very flattering,' remarks Dershovitz in untypically understated tone.

But with both book and movie having taken many times the $500 an hour he charges clients, he can afford to be a little modest. ■

CREEP SHOW

▲ John Goodman in Arachnophobia

'EIGHT LEGS, two fangs and an attitude,' trumpeted the publicity for Arachnophobia. Sounds pretty hairy, and with publicity like that and Steven Spielberg as executive producer, you'd better believe it!

'Not since Jaws,' raved Variety at the time, 'has a film come along to make audiences jump in their seats so regularly and enjoyably,' and in truth it is dead scary. As with many horror stories, a mild-mannered fellow, in this case a doctor played by Jeff Daniels, moves to small-town America with his family and runs into hostility from the locals and a plague of killer spiders to boot.

While Daniels, Harley Jane Kozak and Roseanne star John Goodman, soon to appear in a baseball movie about the legendary Babe Ruth, are the movie's human stars, the real scene-stealers are the film's wide variety of real spiders, including the delena spider from New Zealand and an Amazonian tarantula. Eeeurgh!

Director Frank Marshall is currently in British Columbia shooting a big-budget adventure movie, Alive. ■

ALL-STAR ATTRACTIONS

AIR AMERICA Sky Movies Plus Sunday 19th 8.00pm

The resilient Mel Gibson is joined by Robert Downey, Jr (soon to be seen as Charlie Chaplin in Richard Attenborough's new biopic) in this action comedy about a pair of thrill-seeking CIA pilots who indulge in illicit drug-smuggling activities in Laos during the Vietnam war.

Based on the book by Christopher Robbins, it's a frenetic mix of action and comedy that also features fine performances from Nancy Travis and Ken Jenkins.

LOVE AT LARGE The Movie Channel Monday 20th 8.15pm

A wry, romantic comedy, in which private eye Tom Berenger runs into an attractive female detective played by Elizabeth Perkins while himself on the trail of an errant lover.

Imagine his dismay when he discovers she has been hired to spy on him by his girlfriend.

With music by Mark Isham and Leonard Cohen, it's an enjoyably light-hearted treatment of an intricate plot of double-cross and double lives, full of odd but irresistible characters living in a timeless setting.

THE ROOKIE Sky Movies Plus Saturday 11th 10.00pm

Back on familiar territory once again, Clint Eastwood directs himself as an ageing cop who teaches his younger and greener partner (Charlie Sheen) how to act tough.

Eastwood likes to make his films in real settings. In this instance it's El Sereno in east Los Angeles, where the Chinese proprietor of a dry cleaning shop was paid $8,000 to have his property taken out in one of the many fight scenes. Also starring Sonia Braga, whose fiery performance in The Milagro Beanfield War sticks in the memory.

ALMOST AN ANGEL The Movie Channel Monday 13th 8.15pm

Paul Hogan stars as Terry Dean, a professional thief who undergoes a life-changing experience that turns him into a Good Samaritan.

The film marks the Australian star's first time on the big screen as a character other than Mick 'Crocodile' Dundee, the creation that turned Hogan into a household name.

As in the case of the Dundee movies, Almost an Angel finds Hogan doubling up as both star and writer.

CONAN THE DESTROYER Sky Movies Plus Sunday 26th 8.00pm

Arnold Schwarzenegger is back as the barbarian hero Conan in this fantasy adventure.

Based on Robert E Howard's ever-popular pulp novels, this sequel to the 1982 epic Conan the Barbarian is somewhat lighter than John Milius's weighty original.

Nevertheless, it boasts a fast pace, plenty of action and some bizarre special effects from Carlo ET Rinaldi.

Arnie is joined by Olivia D'Abo, former basketball star Wilt Chamberlain and a smouldering Grace Jones.

Burning passions

Jodie Foster and Dennis Hopper

THE REMARKABLE Jodie Foster stars in Catchfire as yet another young woman who is the sole witness to a brutal mob murder.

Having donned a cunning disguise, she takes off for the apparent safety of Mexico, where she unwittingly runs into and falls in love with a super-cool, jazz-mad hitman sent to kill her.

The killer, for whom the instruction 'take her out' obviously has more than one meaning, is played by a frighteningly wiry but reliably spaced-out Dennis Hopper.

Hopper also directed the film, but unfortunately the distributors did not allow the Peter Pan of US Road Movies the fullness of time he has enjoyed completing past projects (The Last Movie is a testament to what he is capable of given a free rein), and an hour of the film ended up on the cutting room floor.

As a result our Dennis had his name removed from the credits, and replaced with the Directors' Guild pseudonym Alan Smithee.

Nevertheless Catchfire remains a chilling study in sexual obsession and, thanks to Ed Lachman's sharp eye for landscape and the bizarre architecture of the American West, it's always good to look at.

Watch out for flavour of the month Joe Pesci, appearing yet again as a mob boss (he does it so well), and Hopper's long-time friend and former child star Dean Stockwell. ■

Crime rave grips Hicksville!

FOLLOWING IN THE footsteps of Married to the Mob and Cookie, this latest blast of comic gangster humour twins the talents of Steve Martin and Rick Moranis, who last met each other in Parenthood.

My Blue Heaven has Martin as a yobbo mobster from the grimy end of New York, while Moranis plays the beleaguered FBI agent who signs him up for the Witness Protection scheme and a new life in Hicksville, USA.

The effect of Martin's jackets, strange haircut and wiseguy city lingo on his new neighbours signals the start of a seemingly infinite string of gags from Nora Ephron's busy script.

Directed by Herbert Ross, best-remembered for California Suite and Steel Magnolias. ■

Chock's away

Fans of the ever-popular Chocky series will thrill to its super-sequel Chocky's Children, showing on The Children's Channel this month.

It's been almost a year now since Matthew Gove lost contact with Chocky, his invisible friend from another planet and life seems to have returned to normal.

Davey Jones's lock-up

There's always something fishy going on under the deep blue sea, not least in Seacargo, where murky adventures and crazy goings-on continue unabated for Sharky and George. Sharky, the famous detective, and his sidekick George, are hot on the trail of Doctor Jelly, mad scientist and would-be master of the world.

But even when they have the Doctor safely under lock and key, there's no rest for the titanic two-some, who go on to deal with the next 'shoal' of bad-dies, including Von-Klaw and his Black Crab allies, Lefty Hook and Goldwin Mackerel. ■

▶▶ Children's Channel: Sharky and George weekdays at 9.30am from 20 July ◀◀

▲ A holiday in the country in Chocky's Children

But when he and his family go to stay in the countryside during the Summer holidays, Matthew discovers he can communicate telepathically with Albertine, a young girl living nearby, and becomes convinced that Chocky is back.

Then he receives an unexpected message to say that he is creating danger for both himself and Albertine. Matthew needs help desperately, but where is Chocky? Why doesn't she contact him? Watch and find out! ■

Minute Minder

Chicken Minute, the all-singing, all dancing puppet show follows the adventures of Minute, a vegetarian fox, and his best friend Mama Cocotte, the most blues-lovin' chicken around.

Joining them on their capers are Mama's nephew Ulysses, who refuses to leave the comfort of his shell. Anatole, the twosome's incredibly clumsy neighbour, and Mudbelly, a slimy harmless monster who spends most of his time in the water.

They all live in a village in the heart of Louisiana, and just love chillin' out to their favourite music, jazz and rhythm'n'blues.

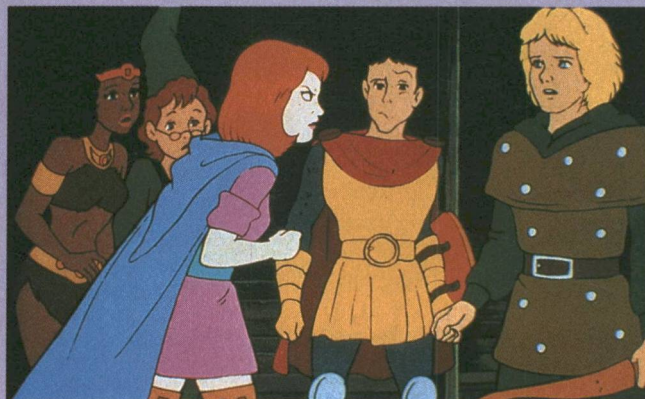

▶▶ Children's Channel: Chicken Minute Tuesdays at 6.30pm from 20 July ◀◀

FATAL ATTRACTION

Fantasy and magical powers abound in the realms of Dungeons and Dragons, where six unsuspecting kids find themselves stranded in a world where dragons, demons, wizards and sorcerers are a frightening reality.

Fortunately each adventurer possesses a special magical weapon which aids the heroes in their never-ending search for a way back home. But the weapons also act as a beacon, attracting the dark side of the Realm to them as well. How long can they survive? ■

Yes! Baseball returns on Screensport this month now that the contractual niceties have been resolved.

Where are the hit films?

I HAVE HAD cable for two months but I would love to ask why are all the best films on the Movie Channel? I am connected to Sky Movies Plus only but such films as Home Alone, Ghost and Fright Night II are on the Movie Channel.

Why don't you get both channels, I hear you ask? Because they are too expensive. Please spread out the good films.

Apart from the movies, I like MTV and Cable Jukebox the best.

Wrestling fans get into a tangle!

In May we printed a letter from M P Stewart of Southampton which described Sky One's WWF wrestling as kid's stuff and asked for more WCW and USWA to be shown. Many grapple fans were gripped by outrage at such comments, while others were supportive. Here's a selection of your responses...

WWF is not just for kids! It is the top wrestling organisation in the world. WCW and USWA wrestlers are not a patch on WWF stars. Are there any plans to show the WBF championships this year?

D A Batchelor
Lordshill, Southampton

PRIMETIME shows the main matches and should definitely not be scrapped. All-American and Wrestling Challenge are not the same thing - Challenge is a programme for the latest wrestling news while All-American is a compilation of the best of the week's wrestling. WCW is already shown on ITV and, in my opinion, is not a patch on WWF. As for WWF being for kids, well during Wrestlemania VIII there was no one under 35 watching in our house apart from myself. WWF is not overshown.

Aidan Larkin (aged 13)
Carshalton, Surrey

LIKE M P Stewart I am an ardent fan of WCW. Will it be shown on cable?

Linda D Dewey
Waterlooville, Hants

I watch as much wrestling as I can. I enjoy watching WWF but too much of it is shown. For instance, Superstars of Wrestling and All-American Wrestling show repeats from Wrestling Challenge and Primetime. I watch WCW every Saturday night at 1.00am or I video it as it is on too late for a young teenager. Please show WCW on cable.

Glen Clark
Bancroft, Milton Keynes

Sky Sports axed its WCW coverage to concentrate on WWF. WCW is now exclusive to ITV. Sky Sports has been showing WBF Body Stars on Mondays.

Lust in the dust!

Known today as Lust in the Dust, but greeted with moral outrage in 1946, 'Duel in the Sun' is a testament to David O Selznick's frenzied attempt to out-do his own creation 'Gone with the Wind'. It is one of several unusual horse operas on cable in July ...

▲ Jennifer Jones and Gregory Peck as the tortured lovers in Selznick's 'Duel in the Sun'

JUST AS Gone with the Wind (1939) was a tribute to David O Selznick's first wife Irene, so Duel in the Sun passionately worships his second wife, Jennifer Jones.

The plot has Cain and Abel brothers Joseph Cotten and Gregory Peck fighting over demented half-Indian Jones. She succumbs to her passions after a torturous struggle between good and evil.

But unlike Niven Bush's original novel, which ended happily, Selznick's movie has Jones and Peck dying in an embrace, after gunning each other down in one of Hollywood's most excessive shoot-outs.

The dementia was not restricted to one side of the camera, however. Although credited as director, King Vidor only handled about half of the footage, before quitting over Selznick's demand to further eroticise Jones.

After hiring and firing several more directors, including William Dieterle and William Cameron Menzies, Selznick finished the movie himself, prompting critics to observe that he 'bought the best talent and proceeded to interfere with it'.

The film also stars silent screen icon Lillian Gish who, dismissed by Hollywood in 1928 as a 'sexless antique', had the last laugh by continuing to appear in films over the next 70 years. Her performance in Duel in the Sun earned her an Oscar nomination.

Vastly different, but also something of a curio, Custer of the West (1968) is a Technicolour carnival version of the Little Big Horn myth shot on location in Spain, as Westerns often were in the 1960s.

It starred real-life husband and wife Robert Shaw and Mary Ure as the Custers, with strong support from the unfairly underrated Jeffrey Hunter, and British stalwart Keiron Moore as an unlikely Chief Dull Knife.

High points include a runaway train heading for a burning bridge, a soldier escaping down a racing log flume, and Robert Ryan as a gold-hungry deserter.

Historically the film is highly inaccurate, but the fact, for example, that the victor at the Little Big Horn was not Dull Knife but Sitting Bull and Crazy Horse is unimportant. It is Shaw's devastating performance as the demagogic general, challenging corruption in high places and predicting what the future holds, not only for the Indian, but for mankind as a whole, that makes the picture a triumph.

'It's over,' he tells Dull Knife in angry resignation. 'Trains, steel. Guns that kill by thousands. No horses, no men. All this,' he gestures to the vast natural landscape, 'is finished.'

Another equally famous battle is depicted in The Alamo: Thirteen Days to Glory, a two-part epic dramatising the heroic last stand taken by 181 Texas rebels against the vast Mexican army of many thousands.

The star-studded cast of martyrs includes James Arness as Jim Bowie, Brian Keith as Davy Crockett, Alec Baldwin as William Travis and Lorne Green as Sam Houston, not forgetting Raul Julia as the Mexican general Santa Ana.

▶▶ Bravo: Duel in the Sun Sunday 5th 8.00pm; Custer of the West Thursday 9th 3.25pm. HVC: The Alamo: Thirteen Days to Glory Part 1 Friday 3rd 8.00pm (to be continued next month) ◀◀ on Eurosport, which promises non-stop 24-hour coverage of the Summer Olympics. All the main events will be shown live; all sports will be covered; all the events will be broadcast on the days they take place. Never before has so much TV coverage been given to the Olympics. Here, 'Cable Guide' spotlights the major events and the personalities limbering up for action

ATHLETICS

GB v USA part 2

Britain's Kriss Akabusi unforgettably barrelled his way past Antonio Pettigrew to win Gold in the 4 x 400m relay at the Tokyo World Championships. In doing so he and his team-mates put the cocky Americans in their place for once – but for how long?

The formidable US team will be eager to return to their accustomed place at the top of the podium in Barcelona.

'It's great to see the British underdogs getting the American's backs up,' Tim Hutchings, the former British Olympic runner and Eurosport commentator in Barcelona, told Cable Guide. 'That will be a great re-match.'

Hutchings is keen to see his former team-mates, the relay winners Akabusi and Roger Black, come back with top medals.

'Both are very nice guys,' he says. 'I would like to see them do one better than they did in Tokyo [Black won 400m Silver, Akabusi 400m hurdles Bronze]. I would especially like to see Black do well because he has come back from so many injuries.'

Hutchings believes the American sprinters can be a bit arrogant and he hopes Britain's Olympic team captain Linford Christie, who was fourth behind three Americans in the 100m in Tokyo, can get in among the medals this time.

'He is still going well. I would love to see him get a medal and break up the Americans.'

In the long jump Hutchings sees another gripping re-match between Americans Mike Powell and Carl Lewis. Powell is the man who snatched Bob Beamon's 23-year-old record in Tokyo, a feat Lewis had chased for 10 years.

'It will be interesting to see if Carl Lewis can come back at him,' says Hutchings. 'Powell says he has been training very hard and believes he can jump over nine metres [the record stands at 8.95m or 29' 4"].'

The Moroccan Said Aouita will also be watched intently.

See the Sports Diary starting on page 112 for a full run-down of all Olympic coverage

Says Hutchings: 'He is probably the greatest middle-distance runner who ever lived. He is coming back from his operations. He will probably go in the 5000m and it would lovely to see him take Gold.'

One unsavoury aspect of the Olympics is still present: drugs.

'There has been a lot of talk about cover-ups,' says Hutchings. 'I think there is still a very big drugs problem.'

'There are always people willing to cheat when money is on offer. Some East German athletes have said they were on drugs programmes. There is no other way to explain the incredible success story of the East German women.'

SWIMMING

Golds for Britain?

'It will be a good Olympics and there are some good swimmers coming through,' says Olympic Gold and Silver medallist David Wilkie, who is also part of the Eurosport commentary team.

'The maximum number of medals that Britain can win is probably three.'

He cites Nick Gillingham (100 and 200m breast stroke) and Adrian Moorhouse (100m breast stroke) as Britain's Gold contenders.

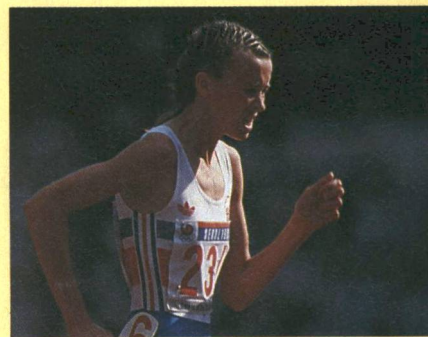

Wilkie points to the American Matt Biondi (five Gold, one Silver, one Bronze at Seoul) as the likely winner of further Olympic glories. 'He is one of the greatest swimmers there,' says Wilkie. 'He is a favourite for the 50 and 100m freestyle. He is going to pick up three Golds in the relays.'

While Biondi is coming to the end of his career, the Australians have an emerging star. 'One of the more interesting swimmers is Kieren Perkins. He should win the 400 and 1500m freestyle.'

Like Tim Hutchings, Wilkie cites drugs as the downside of the Games.

'One of the special things about Barcelona is that the East

German girls are no longer on drugs so it will be much fairer,' he says. 'But they have left some tremendous records that have been drug-related. All the relays are just about untouchable.

'OK, they'll be broken eventually but the East Germans have left a tough old challenge for the swimmers that are left.'

And the cheating still goes on. Wilkie suspects one or two governments of having steroids programmes for their swimmers.

BOXING

Adios to the fighters?

'This could be the last time that boxing is featured at the Olympics,' says Eurosport's commentator Steve Holdsworth.

IOC President Juan Antonio Samaranch may be set to see the sport excluded from the Games.

'After all that aggro at Seoul [defeated Korean boxer Byun Jong-Il refused to leave the ring and American Roy Jones was controversially judged the loser to another Korean, Park Si-Hun] this may be it. 'People are becoming more and more anti-boxing.'

Barcelona will the first Games in which the boxing is scored electronically. 'The problem with it is that it is operated by humans!' says Holdsworth. Five operators looking for points of performance will press a scoring button. 'It's a bit hit and miss and has caused a lot of controversy already.'

Holdsworth points to welter-weight Adrian Dodson (formerly Carew) as Britain's best medal hope. 'He is, most experts agree, the best chance of a medal. He is multi-talented and fighting in a very competitive division.'

HOCKEY

Sean Kerly, the Lineker of hockey

'Britain's men's team will be defending their Olympic title,' says Eurosport's Nick Irving. 'Recent results would suggest they will find it difficult.'

'But then again, results prior to Seoul gave no indication of the dramas that were to unfold. Certainly we haven't wasted too many good results between Games so we might be peaking at the right time again.'

'Several Olympians from Seoul are still in the side, most prominently Sean Kerly, the Gary Lineker of hockey.

'Great Britain's women were overshadowed by the men at Seoul but they finished fourth. Since the Olympics the England women's team have won the European Championship. 'On recent results you would certainly fancy the women slightly more than the men at Barcelona.'

British players to watch: playmaker Jason Laslett and striker Jane Sixsmith. Holland's men's and women's teams must be strong contenders as both are current World Champions.

GYMNASTICS

CIS set to sweep medals

Expected to scoop the board for Rhythmic Gymnastics in Barcelona are two contenders from the newly formed CIS, Alexandra Timoshenko and Oksana Skaldina.

The girls come from the same club and have taken most of the medals and top titles over the past two years.

The British team had not been selected at the time of going to press, but it will almost certainly include 14-year-old Debbie Southwick. Trained in Russia, Debbie has won most international placings this year. ■

EQUESTRIAN

Broome still cleaning up

The Showjumping is set to be dominated by the French and the Germans.

British hopes include the Whitaker brothers from Yorkshire, and David Broome, who rode in his first Olympics in 1960.

The Three Day Eventing is set to be between Great Britain and New Zealand. British hopes are pinned on Mary Thomson, Ian Stark of Scotland and former World and European champion Virginia Leng.

New Zealand is headed by reigning Olympic champion Mike Todd and Blyth Tait who is the current reigning World champion.

Finally, Dressage will once more be dominated by the Germans, who are generally regarded as being a different class from the rest of the world.

AMIGOS PARA SIEMPRE . . . or Friends for Life, that is the slogan of these Olympics. It is intended to comment on the spirit of Barcelona and 'express the ideas of loyalty, durability and solidarity'.

NEW SPORTS

These Games will include two new sports: badminton and baseball (Britain is sending 12 badminton competitors). The total number of medal events is 257, an increase of 20 over Seoul. This increase is the result of new events being added, including seven for women in judo, a women's 10km walk and two extra sailing competitions for women.

EVERY DOG HAS ITS DAY Meet Cobi, the Olympic mascot. It is based on a Catalan Pyrenean dog. Both the mascot and the abstract emblem – representing an athlete in motion in Mediterranean colours – were chosen after competitions.

REPLAYING THE ACTION

The official film of the Olympics is being directed by Britain's Hugh Hudson. His credits include – what else! – Chariots of Fire. This creative documentary will be released in two forms: a 100-minute version for cinema and a longer one in episodes for TV.

NUMBERS GAME

A record number of athletes (10,000) are competing in a record number of sports (28) in these Games. The IOC seems to feel enough is enough and the participants' numbers may be restricted for Atlanta 1996.

FLYING START

Per capita, the judo and equestrian teams have been Britain's best medal bankers in recent Games. So detailed plans have been made to keep GB ahead of the world. Purpose-designed flights have been made for the 19 competing horses. The judo team have been honing their skills in America, Korea and Japan.

Powerslam!

The Mountie

Randy Savage

Want to know the latest inside WWF news? John Greenfield, President of the American Wrestling Fan Club, reveals the latest stories inside and outside of the ring!

Summerslam 92

With Summerslam 92 set for 30th August and many of you aware that it will be somewhere in Europe, fans have been wondering what the venue will be and who will be matched against whom.

British fans will be overwhelmed to hear that our inside sources say the venue is Wembley Arena! On the card is the Legion of Doom v Money Inc for the tag title, plus the Undertaker v the Beserker, Ultimate Warrior or Randy Savage v Ric Flair, in his retirement match. Also look out for Davey Boy v Repoman, Sgt Slaughter and Hackshaw Duggan v Dino Bravo and Colonel Mustapha.. Watch this space for broadcasting details! ■

In the chair – the enigmatic Ric Flair

Ring Masters

Ultimate Warrior has returned to the WWF only to be criticised by fans for the recent scenes of vomiting on television (WWF Superstars Sky One 18 May). Although promoters continue to keep fans interested, such acts could have a negative effect. Former wrestler Paul Roma has left the ranks of WWF and is currently on a steady path to success as a pro-boxer under the watchful eye of Kevin Tooney who worked closely with Mike Tyson.

Old favourite Dino Bravo returned to the WWF in April and has now formed a tag team with Colonel Mustapha. Sources say the tag team will be only short lived, already having lost several matches against little known wrestlers.

British Bulldog Davey Boy Smith has been officially recognised as the number 4 contender to the coveted WWF heavyweight title. The Mountie (Jacques Rougeau) has fallen foul of the Canadian police federation, who are trying to stop him wrestling in Canada as the Mountie. Apparently, they consider his attitude and approach to law enforcement detrimental to their image.

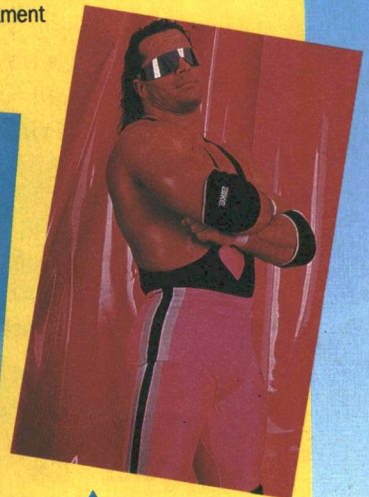

WWF boss Vince McMahon Jnr has fallen out with ex-presenter Jessie 'The Body' Ventura over no less than money. Many fans will know that Jessie was co-host with McMahon on many WWF Primetime events.

Former demolition star Crush returned to the WWF after losing the PNW heavyweight belt: at 6'7" and 320lbs competitors better take care!

Repoman is set to become the next victim of Davey Boy Smith's powerslam after nearly choking the Brit in a recent TV taped match-up.

Texas Tornado (Kerry Von Erich) has returned to the WWF circuit after a near career-ending situation. Many fans will know Texas has been absent for a few months. But now sources within the WWF confirm he is back to stay. I wish him every success. I met him on Boxing Day last year in Toronto and contrary to the beliefs of many, Kerry cares about his fans.

Rumours are rife that the alliance of Ric Flair and Mr Perfect is under strain. I can only say that the rumours are true! Mr Perfect is trying to return to the ring and Ric Flair is set to retire so WWF promoters get your planning department into overtime. ■

DIAMOND GEEZERS

Grand Slams, home runs and strike-outs – America's national game is back on cable screens this month

The 1992 baseball season could see a return of the old times – the Yankees are spending, the Mets are spending and winning, and the Athletics are simply winning.

The early season form of Major League baseball's 26 clubs does not always prove true to form come October's World Series, but there is something of a familiar touch to this year.

When experts look at the form book they normally start with the current world champions, in this case the Minnesota Twins. Screensport's play-by-play baseball commentator Nick Halling confirms that they are up with the best in the American League West, but he likes the look of Oakland.

The Athletics are a dream team. Led by big, bad Cuban Jose Canseco, Oakland had run into morale and injury trouble. The team of high-priced achievers became over-priced bickerers when they were unexpectedly thumped 4-0 in the 1990 World Series. A season out of the spotlight seems to have worked a return to top form.

In the neighbouring A L East, no one has been able to see past the Toronto Blue Jays, who have been collecting talent like it was going out of fashion. The Jays did not sprint away in the early stages but should have the staying power.

The National League West began the season as the closest of all. Hardly a game covered five of the six clubs with only the Los Angeles Dodgers out of the frame. But a hot streak here and a crisis of form there and it could all change. The Atlanta Braves with their wealth of young talent were thought to be good bets to do well, but the weight of expectation has been proving too heavy.

In the N L East, Pittsburgh have been the dominant team yet have failed to push home their advantages. They are now losing their top players to free agency at an alarming rate (Bobby Bonilla has already gone to the Mets).

Players salaries and free agency is also a key topic for the baseball authorities in 1992. Salaries, in particular, have spiralled to unreasonable heights in the eyes of many commentators. Even journeymen players now seem easily able to get themselves a million-dollar-a-year deal.

Free agency has brought about the rises and now the TV companies are suffering.

The TV companies are losing money on baseball these days, so any new contracts will not keep pace with increasing salary demands. Many observers feel that the day of reckoning is approaching. Even the planned exhibition game in Barcelona this Spring failed because of players' financial demands. There could be some dark days ahead for the MLB... John Bramley Screensport begins its coverage of the 1992 MLB season on Wednesday 1st at 10.30pm followed by a two-hour show every Wednesday. There will be live coverage of the World Series in October.

Will Mansell lap them up again?

July is a crucial month for Nigel Mansell's World Championship ambitions. After his record-setting dream start to the Formula 1 season this could be make-or-break time as three European Grands Prix beckon. First comes the French round on the 5th. The venue is Circuit Nevers-Magny-Cours, which throws plenty of blind corners at the drivers to keep them on their toes. Mansell won there last time.

On the 12th comes another happy racing ground for the Briton - Silverstone.

Mansell has set the fastest qualifying lap, the lap record and he took the chequered flag on his last appearance.

Plenty of fast corners and loud support for the home drivers should make this grand prix a thriller.

Finally, there's the long track of Germany's Hockenheim-Ring on the 26th. This can be a gut-churning ride in the ride as the drivers do 200mph along a narrow ribbon of road with spray and mist hanging between the trees. Mansell and his Williams-Renault team will be trying to emulate last year's hat-trick of victories in these countries to give their title charge an unshakeable look.

Eurosport is covering live the practice sessions on Fridays, the final qualifiers on Saturdays, and the main events themselves on the Sundays.

Grand Tour

▲ Spain's Pedro Delgado in his tour winning year 1988

The Tour de France is still the world's richest cycling race, with prize money totalling more than £1m, more than £200,000 of which goes to the winner.

Starting on Saturday 4th and concluding on Sunday 26th, the race covers a total distance of 3830 kilometres and includes 21 stages, which are divided up as follows: Eight flat stages; Five undulating stages; Two medium mountain stages; Three high mountain stages; Four time trial stages, including prologue (three individual, one team).

Other special features of the race include:

- Three finishes at altitude;
- 136 kilometre individual time trials;
- 63 kilometre team time trials;
- One rest day.

As in the past three years, the competing teams, each made up of 22 teams of nine riders, will comprise:

The first 16 on the FIFC classification table on 19th May following the Tour of Spain;

Six 'wild cards' awarded on 16th June following the Giro d'Italia and the Criterium du Dauphine.

This year's event also includes the reintroduction of the intermediate sprints (two or three per stage), the Classification for combativeness, the Best Young Rider Classification and the Time Classification for Teams.

Stringent rules will be applied in the interests of fair play, with drugs testing by the Official Sporting Bodies and helicopter surveillance by a steward in the mountain stages. ■

THE LAZY MAN'S WAY TO A MILLION

"Seven months ago I sent you a cheque for £19.95, and in just three weeks your system made me £6,500. Thank you very much!"

S.R. London

"A £45,000 thank you for your system. That's how much I've netted using it."

P.S. Belfast

"I thought that at £19.95 it was nothing more than a shot in the dark - £19,000 in my first six months says I was wrong. It's as easy as falling off a log."

R.F. Tyne & Wear

WHATS ALL THE FUSS? - Well let me tell you. The above letters are only a small sample of the ever growing collection that I receive every week, and they are all sent in VOLUNTARILY! IN THEIR WORDS and not mine their lives have been transformed using a system for which the last five years I have come to call "The Lazy Man's Way To a Million."

These people inform me that before sending away for the system they were, in the majority working class people with middle class debts! Most had never even dreamed of getting out of the hole they were in.

Yes I would agree that you may be sceptical of such stories of wealth accumulation, but no more than I was! What got rid of my scepticism? Well, five years ago I took a chance and heeded some advice which a wealthy friend gave to me. "It's not how hard you work, BUT HOW SMART!"

Within eighteen months of our first meeting I had adopted his system for making money and my whole life had been turned upside down. I had gone from a rented council house to an eight bedroom mansion in the country. Now I can safely say that I don't work hard any more - just smart. Let me ask you a simple question if I may. Do you work hard? - If you do, then are you earning RIGHT NOW what you think you deserve, and are you driving that sports car of your dreams? If you're not then it's not very smart is it?

I am prepared to stick my neck out and put my reputation on the line. I will GUARANTEE that my system will work for you just as it worked for the people above within the next THIRTY DAYS OR YOU PAY NOTHING! Guarantee it? YES, let me tell you that this system for making enormous amounts of money has never failed for anybody I know who has put it into action.

Recently, a friend of mine who was earning around £11,000 p.a. told me that he was looking for a career change. In his first TEN DAYS he had earned £5,500 operating "The Lazy Man's Way To A Million." And by the way, before you ask - yes this system is 100% legal.

I will give you thirty days to try the system out for yourself. If you return it to me within thirty days in good condition, telling me that you are not 100% delighted with it, then you will receive your £19.95 back - IN FULL - NO QUESTIONS ASKED!

I'm prepared to risk my reputation if you're prepared to risk a 22p stamp! That's the worst that could possibly happen to you if all of my claims are unfounded. But for the cost of a stamp let me just ask you one final question. WHAT IF I'M RIGHT! You have everything to gain and nothing to lose. It's your choice!

Barbarians v CIS LIVE on the 14th at 8pm.

HOME FIRES

A series that focuses on some of the most common issues that can confront any modern family, such as the balance of career and family, parenting, teenage experimentation with drugs and sex and the modern family unit. (Starts 27th at 8pm).

STUDS

"I'm more like a Ferrari than a Porsche, I may not be the fastest off the line, but on top end speed I'm the quickest".
 "He fulfilled all my fantasies".
 "He left me wanting more...." and if you do then switch on to 'Studs' 10pm weekdays

THE CRITICAL LIST

A hospital doctor appointed as US Secretary of Health finds himself in the centre of a political scandal that could rock the very heart of the American establishment. But will exposing what he knows put him at risk of becoming yet another casualty? (Starts 12th at 8pm).

THE NIGHT THE BRIDGE FELL DOWN

This two part mini series is a harrowing account of 8 peoples' fight for survival when trapped by a collapsed bridge. James (Hawaii Five-O) MacArthur plays Cal Miller, a city engineer whose efforts to prevent tragedy are ignored. (Starts 12th at 8pm).

CONDOMINIUM

A group of Californian lovers buy their own dream apartments only to find that the 'luxurious' condos have been assembled using cheap, illegal materials. If that wasn't enough it's discovered that if a hurricane hits the coast the buildings won't stand a chance and guess what...there's one on the way! (Starts 5th at 8pm).

BRAVO

The Not-So-Grim

.....Mr Sim

One withered look from those doleful eyes was enough to sink a soufflé at twenty paces, but behind that rumpled visage was a one-off comic joy who was an absolute gem in the crown of a golden age of British cinema - those glorious days of homburgs and humbug, cads and bounders, bobbies on bicycles and vicars who came for tea.

A character actor of marvellous economy with a fine sense of the eccentric, outlandish, not to mention ridiculous. Alastair Sim's actions on screen sometimes spoke louder than words (ironic, considering he was an ex-professor of elocution). But, when he did get his educated Edinburgh lilt around dialogue, he more than did it justice, especially when it was penned by screenwriters Sidney Gilliat and Frank Launder, who were responsible for many of Sim's finest screen moments. In fact Gilliat & Launder are writ large on the credits on two of the quartet of films featured in the Alastair Sim season on Bravo this month.

Frank Launder not only wrote, but also directed Folly to be Wise, a delightfully witty comedy in which Sim plays an army chaplain who attempts to liven up service life with various entertainment programmes - but unwittingly triggers off a battle of the sexes. In The Green Man - a Launder/Gilliat farce directed by Robert Day, he's a watchmaker who leads a double life ...as an assassin. The flashback sequence of his past victims' demises is great fun. George Cole and Terry Thomas are splendid support. Terry Thomas is also excellent in School for Scoundrels, in which Alastair Sim plays the principal of The College of One-Upmanship (his last movie for some 10 years). Based on the Stephen Potter books, with a classic cast of comedy stalwarts including Ian Carmichael and John Le Mesurier. In more dramatic mood, a lugubrious Sims plays the titular lead in An Inspector Calls, about a mysterious inspector who visits the household of a prosperous Yorkshire family, claiming each of them to be partly responsible for a young girl's death. Stirring stuff based on a J.B. Priestley novel. Beyond Mr Sim, July boasts a host of attractions forthcoming on Bravo - so, as Sam Goldwyn's mum would say as she served the chicken soup ..."Enjoy".

The corner of a picturesque strasse in the Austrian Tyrolean Village of St Johann, where the action is centred on German star Corneli Brochers during the filming of 'The Divided Heart'.

JULY

HAS ANYBODY HERE SEEN PETE BRADY?

An accident in the lab and suddenly Pete Brady is master of the blank expression. Suddenly chairs walk across rooms. And grown men beat themselves up single-handedly...have you ever seen anything like it? No? Then you haven't seen The Invisible Man. In fact not many people have. But do look out for him around 4.35pm every Sunday, starting July only on Bravo.

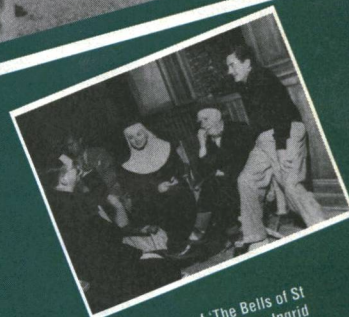

...in shooting in Ljubljana.
...a 'The Divided Heart' star gets into the part by talking real mother of 13 year old on whom the story is based role chat since Yvonne plays her in the movie.

ON & OFF
THE SET

'HOPALONG TO THE WILD FRONTIER'
GOOD OL' HOPALONG CASSIDY'S BACK IN THE SADDLE - JUST MOSEYIN' ALONG, RIGHTIN' WRONG
WHEREVER AND WHENEVER IT HAPPENS BY. Y'AWL COME CLIPPEDY CLOPPIN' ALONG TOO PARDNERS...
EVERY SUNDAY AT 3.15pm ON BRAVO.

You've heard of a 'captive audience'? Well how about a 'captive cast'? That's the way it was during the filming of 'Riot in Cell Block 11' - it was actually shot in Folsom State Prison California and 4000 real convicts took part in the riot sequences.

An amusing moment off-set for the cast of 'The Bells of St
Mary's' - perhaps director Leo McCarey is telling Ingrid
Bergman not to make a habit of it?

THE BONANZA EXTRAVAGANZA

They're back in action...the Ponderosa poseurs, real cowboys every one of 'em, as they tame the Wild West into a place fit for decent folk to live. And don't be fooled by Little Joe's black hat...they're good guys to a man.
Ride with them every Sunday at 3.40pm only on BRAVO.

Today's Choice

The Discovery Channel.
National Day of Canada. On 1
July 1867, the Dominion of Canada was established, and
The Discovery Channel is celebrating with a day of programmes about this vast country, its people and its wildlife. David Jensen returns to the land of his birth to show us
the real Canada in Canadian Crossing, Anne Martin drops in on an ancient Viking colony in Newfoundland in On Top of the World, and in Discovery Sport
Canadian Football stars talk about the game and its 128-year history. And these are only some of the programmes being shown today in Canada's honour.

Today's Choice

8.00pm Sky Movies Plus. 'Til Murder Do Us Part. A provocative drama telling the true story of Betty Broderick (Meredith Baxter), a 'model' wife who helped foster both the career and social success of her attorney husband (Stephen Collins). However, when he leaves her for a younger woman (Michelle Johnson), dragging Betty through messy and humiliating divorce proceedings, her hurt and frustration boil over until only murder can provide an outlet. Directed by Dick Lowry.

Today's Choice

3.40pm Lifestyle. Phyllis. This crazy show stars Cloris Leachman as Phyllis Lindstrom, the unforgettable character from The Mary Tyler Moore Show. Finding herself broke after her husband Lars dies, Phyllis is forced to take her daughter Bess and move to San Francisco to live with her in-laws. Phyllis's lack of experience as an independent woman results in many hysterical adventures.

Today's Choice

4.00pm The Discovery Channel. Giotto - A Close Encounter of the Second Kind. Today the European Space Agency's satellite Giotto will be manoeuvred into the path of a comet to send back pictures to Earth. Giotto last encountered a comet in 1986, and was then put into hibernation in space for four years, orbiting the sun every 10 months. Now it has been reactivated and set to pass through the tail of a new comet Grigg-Skjellerup. Discovery will broadcast the encounter and Heather Couper will explain exactly what is happening as Giotto endures a massive dust bombardment.

Today's Choice

4.55pm Bravo. Live Now, Pay Later. Ian Hendry of The Informer and The Lotus Eaters fame stars in this satirical farce as a credit store salesman with a silver tongue. But underneath his facade he is heavily in debt and his private life is in ruins. And that's without mentioning the fact that he keeps a very untidy flat! Hendry is joined in a selection of situations both comic and tragic by British stalwarts John Gregson and June Ritchie, while the catchy theme tune is by the late Ron Dr Who Grainer.

Today's Choice

12.35am HVC. Dead End City. In the near future vicious gangs rule the streets. At night they crawl out of their hiding place in the sewer tunnels to rob and mutilate the city's last inhabitants. Everyone has fled or been evacuated in the face of failure on the part of a corrupt police force to control the violence. But Jack Murphy stays to make a stand inside the steel factory built by his father. Soon Jack and a handful of friends are fighting off repeated attacks by the gangs. Surrounded, outmanned and outgunned, Jack hits on one desperate solution; he will go into the sewer tunnels and meet his deadly foe on its own turf.

Gumshoe. Albert Finney plays an old music hall performer who becomes a rather unorthodox private eye when he finds a dead body in his apartment. Not having anything much better to do, he decides to investigate and soon finds himself the target of all manner of people who want him dead, including members of his own family. Andrew Lloyd Webber wrote the musical score, while Finney himself produced. Also starring Billie Whitelaw and Frank Casanova Finlay.

Today's Choice

9.30pm Bravo. An Inspector Calls. Genial Alastair Sim turns up in not-so-cuddly mood in this adaptation of J B Priestley's classic social morality play. In 1912 a prosperous Yorkshire family sits down to dinner, only to be visited by a mysterious police inspector who is investigating the death of a young girl at a local infirmary. Sim is joined by Jane Wenham, Arthur Young, Olga Lindo and a youthful Bryan Forbes.

1.05am HVC. Operation War Zone. A large shipment of weapons is in peril when an undercover agent disappears into the jungles of Vietnam. The classified information he holds could change the outcome of the war, or mean big profits for corrupt soldiers and bureaucrats. A small platoon of honest soldiers is dispatched to locate the missing agent. What they find is a deadly plot to sell the arms for profit and continue the war. Sabotaged and set-up to fail, the honest troop fights back in an explosive confrontation against overwhelming odds to recapture the arms and end the war.

Conan the Destroyer. Arnold Schwarzenegger returns as the barbarian warrior Conan in this second fantasy-adventure outing. The Hyborian sword-wielding hero travels throughout the land, picking up fellow travellers Grace Jones and Wilt Chamberlain along the way to steal a precious jewel for the evil Queen Tamaris. Thunderous action more in the vein of the comic book Conan than the original Robert E Howard character, with lots of fighting, monosyllabic dialogue and special effects which veer wildly from excellent to inept.

Today's Choice

9.20pm Bravo. Custer of the West. This Technicolor extravaganza from the late 1960s will have scholars of American history rolling their eyes skyward and groaning, but, historical fact aside, Custer of the West is a truly exciting biopic of one of American history's most forceful and charismatic characters. The Spanish locations are used to great advantage and Robert Shaw steals the show as the doomed general who realises that both he and his Indian foes are about to be ploughed under by government corruption and rampant industrialism.

Today's Choice

8.10pm The Movie Channel.
Men at Work. Fast-paced comedy-thriller starring brothers Emilio Estevez and Charlie Sheen as a pair of garbage men whose lives are turned upside-down when they discover the city commissioner's body in a trash bin. Over the next 24 hours they frantically try to keep the body hidden, elude a posse of gangsters that is hot on their heels and find the real killer. This was Estevez's second film as director.

For a glimpse of boxing's stars of the future tune in to Sky Sport's coverage of the US Olympic boxing trials

NOT ONLY CAN fight fans enjoy the Olympic boxing this month, but they can also see how the mighty US squad is selected.

Sky Sports is screening two hours of highlights from the US Olympic boxing trials. When you remember that America has won more Olympic neck wear than any other country and that the fighters they reject would walk into the squads of most countries, the trials will make fascinating viewing.

American boxers have won an amazing 46 Gold medals in the Games, three times more than any other nation. In all they have taken 93 medals.

Among those winners have been boxers who turned pro to become some of the sport's most dazzling stars, Floyd Patterson, Muhammad Ali, Joe Frazier, George Foreman, Leon Spinks and Sugar Ray Leonard included.

World heavyweight champ Evander Holyfield was the most recent fighter to cash in on Olympic success. He won a Bronze medal in 1984.

For an idea of the talent on show at the trials, consider the example of Mike Tyson.

As a teenager he could not even get into the squad for the 1984 Games in Los Angeles after twice losing to Henry Tillman as a trialist.

Tillman eventually took Gold and Tyson became the youngest ever heavyweight champion of the world.

Tillman's successor as

▲ Sugar Ray Leonard – from Olympic Gold to pro glory

Olympic heavyweight Golden boy was fellow countryman Ray Mercer. He is the latest man to progress to a world title when he took the WBO heavyweight title from Italy's Francesco Damiani (himself a Silver medallist in 1984) in January 1991.

And Mercer is certainly not going to be the last . . . ■
